Your Directors are hopeful of better performance with increased revenue in the next year.

Sugar Industry Overview

For the sixth consecutive year the world sugar production has recorded a surplus with major contribution coming from Brazil and India. Due to excess production, the international price registered a huge fall which was the lowest in six years. The scenario in India is no different with the production outstripping demand for the sixth year in succession. A carryover stock of 9.08 million tonnes of previous years and estimated surplus production, led to a crash in sugar price to around Rs. 21.50 per kg by July 2015.

However, the introduction of Minimum export quota on all sugar mills linked with incentive to the farmers has helped to improve the sugar price. Further due to the drought conditions prevailing in Maharashtra and parts of Karnataka, the production estimates were revised downward to 25.1 Million tonnes for the sugar year 2015-16. This has helped in firming up of sugar price further from December 2015 onwards and reached Rs.33/kg level by end March 2016.

The following were the major developments that had taken place during the year under review.

- a. Govt. of India has introduced “minimum indicative export quota” (MIEQ) to all sugar mills in order to liquidate some amount of surplus sugar from the market. Further a direct incentive of Rs.45 per Ton of cane was also announced to the farmers of those mills which comply with the obligation, (i.e., 80% of MIEQ) in order to compensate the losses incurred through such exports.
- b. Excise duty is exempted for Ethanol supplied to Public Sector Oil Companies under Ethanol Blending Program (EBP) with effect from 1st October 2015.
- c. Excise duty on Molasses used for production of Ethanol is exempted with effect from 1st October, 2015.
- d. Government of India has notified an interest subsidy soft loan for one-year period. Under the said Scheme the interest subvention will be 12% borne by the Government of India and interest over and above that will be borne by the Company. The maximum eligible amount to each mill under this scheme shall be 11% of the value of sugar produced during the sugar year 2013-14.

Share Capital:

Authorized Share Capital

During the year under review, there was no change in authorized share capital of the Company. Authorized share capital of the company as on March 31, 2016 was Rs.75,00,00,000/-, comprising of 5,00,00,000 equity shares of Rs.10.00 each and 50,00,000 Nos. of 16% Cum Redeemable Preference shares of Rs.50/-.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS REPORT

Industry structure and development

World Sugar

Sugar is produced in over 120 countries from beet or cane. Over time, the relevant share of cane sugar has increased from 56% during 1960s to 80.6% during 2015-16 by reason of making sugar production out of cane in tropical countries.

Global sugar production has resolutely remained surplus over consumption for the fifth consecutive season in 2015-16. Better crops in India and the EU more than counter balanced the smaller output in Brazil and China. World sugar prices under pressure from surplus fundamentals have hence suffered the severest of beating. Raw sugar for the near month delivery touched a six year low of 11.93 cents/pound on 31st March 2016. Indeed, global sugar prices are down by 50% in three years with only a bleak prospect of getting out of bears grip under the current scenario.

Brazil is the dominant sugar producer and exporter, while Thailand is the second largest sugar exporter. India is steadfastly placed as the second largest sugar producer and the numero uno sugar consumer in the World but is just an occasional and marginal player in the global trade.

Indian Sugar

The Indian sugar industry is characterized by the coexistence of private, cooperative and public sector. It is inherently inclusive, supporting over 50 million farmers and their families. It is rural centric and hence a key driver of village level wealth creation. Sugar is India's second largest agro-based industry after Textiles. It has tremendous transformational opportunities to meet food, fuel and power needs in an environment friendly manner.

Sugarcane and sugar production are seasonal with more than 90% happening in the winter months of November to March. Sugarcane use for production of sugar has steadily increased over time in preference to alternative sweeteners. Maharashtra and UP are the dominant sugar producing States while of late Karnataka has significantly stepped up its production. In contrast, sugar production in Andhra Pradesh is on a discernible decline during the last four years due to the recurrence of drought, drying up of rivers, poor storage in reservoirs and resultant repressive water shortage.

As if following the global cues, Indian sugar production has outstripped consumption since 2010-11 for five consecutive seasons. Still worse, early estimates are a clear pointer to the persistence of this surge during 2015-16 as well. It is hence no wonder domestic sugar prices have been smothered, weighed by cumulative supply overhang and diminutive scope for sugar exports despite sops for sugar exports periodically, albeit belatedly, announced by the Government. Indeed, sugar prices have now been hovering for several quarters far below the cost of production across regions. As a result, sugar industry, the producer of green power and green fuel, is financially pushed into red.

It looks as though sugar production has convincingly come out of the influence of traditional cyclical swings. For long, lower sugar prices would mean commensurate lower sugarcane prices, consequent delayed payments and boisterous build up of arrears prompting in that process a proactive crop switch by the farmer. In turn, sugar production would decline to push prices up. This conventional and time tested cycle has now been balefully broken due to the huge disparity between the price for cane compared to other competing crops. As a result, the farmer remains deep rooted with the cane crop, where he has the twin benefits of a guaranteed market access and a lucrative price that more than effectively compensates in the end for the delayed price realization. Blighted by such a structural problem and burdened by the high cost of raw material, Indian sugar is preposterously priced out in the export market, obliterating the scope for stock correction. Government interventions through soft loans and other sops to help clear cane arrears prove only palliative, with the fundamental problem posed by the huge mismatch between sugar and cane price manifesting to prove malignant. In this context, it is imperative that sugarcane pricing is structured on a formula towards equitably sharing a pre-determined percentage of realization from sugar and its by-products. A Cane Price Stabilization Fund could concomitantly be in place to tweak this price for taking care of year on year volatility and bringing in stability to protect the interest of cane farmers.

Government Policies

- The Central Government decided in January 2015 to hike the FRP for sugarcane to Rs.230/- Qtl. For 2015-16 sugar season linked to a basic recovery of 9.5 %.
- Central Government in December 2014 approved a mechanism for Ethanol blend at a fixed price band of Rs.48.50 to Rs.49.50 per Ltr. For delivery at the depots of OMCs. As a further fillip to the Ethanol blending programme, the Centre has also decided to totally exempt excise duty on Ethanol from October 2015.
- Import duty on sugar has been increased from 15% to 25% in August 2014 and further to 40% from 30th April 2015.
- Import facility for sugar under duty-free import authorization scheme has been withdrawn, while the deadline to fulfill the export obligation under AAS has been reduced from 18 months to 6 months.

Opportunities & Threats

India has low per capita consumption with growing income. Its farm productivity has virtually remained stagnant for decades. There is thus immense scope for higher production to meet growing demand and capture export markets besides strengthening the by-product segment to greater value addition. Sugar business is intrinsically cyclical. Market sentiments move disproportionate to demand-supply parity causing volatile change in product pricing. Cogeneration and Ethanol bring much desired value addition to by-products and help soften the inimical impact of sugar cycles.

Sugarcane availability is critically dependent upon conductivity of nature. Repeated monsoon failure and poor storage of water in Aranier reservoir catering to our command area pose a severe challenge to agriculture in our neighborhood, impacting cane cultivation in the process. Unscheduled power tripping disrupting irrigation schedule continues to remain a major impediment. Drip irrigation is only slowly catching up due to its high capital outlay, glitches in getting Government subsidy and draconian deficiency in water resources not enough to meet even the minimal drip requirement for cultivation.

In view of fragmented capacity and high input costs, India suffers systemic un competitiveness in the world market. As a result, sugar exports often times have to rely on the crutches of Government support measures.

Outlook

Defying earlier estimates of a smaller output for 2015-16 season (October/September period), sugar producers have only added to the global supply and in turn aggravated the pricing pressures during the year. Looking ahead to the 2015-16 season, higher Indian production is a clear dampener to the world sugar market with preliminary data showing an increase in the acreage, undaunted by the record high cane price arrears crossing Rs.20000 crores. As a corollary, sugar prices have little scope for rebound and little hope for rejoice barring occasional intermittent corrections. Weather as ever would be the only unpredictable factor in influencing the ultimate outcome of 2015-16 season. Six strong headwinds in the near term and macro forces in the medium term are impacting the industry and exerting downward pressure in the futures market.

- Too much supply caused by five successive years of surplus production.
- Considerable lag in the switch from cane (a semi perennial crop) to other crops and lack of incentive for switch due to depressed prices of other agri commodities.
- Strong USD having a negative impact on the price of all global commodities (sugar isn't immune). Brazilian Real hit a 12 year low against USD, thereby sustaining value of world market sugar in local currency terms.
- Crash in global crude oil prices and consequent ongoing uncertainty over the future bio-fuel demand. There is thus depressed demand for sugar based ethanol in US and EU.
- Sugar consumption marginally increasing in emerging markets but demand dropping in developed markets due to health concerns related to obesity and diabetes.
- Widespread farm subsidies, import restrictions and trade blocks that are all in place since the colonial days keeping sugar prices low.

In thus looks obvious that headwinds would continue to haunt global sugar markets in the near term and the hapless industry should reconcile itself for a long battle.

Risks and concerns

The management cautions that the risks outlined below are not exhaustive and are for information purpose only. Investors are requested to exercise their own judgment in assessing various risks associated with the industry and the Company.

Industry risk

Sugar industry being agro based and vulnerable to commodity cycles is fraught with several risks. Source of sugar cane for other sugar factories is largely depend on our are command area due to less availability of cane in their zone area where growth and availability would depend on monsoon and water flow in the river. Despite recent liberalization by Centre, there are continuing controls on cane area reservation as well as fixation of cane price by State Governments. The growing mismatch between free market prices for end product and Government controlled price for inputs poses a persistent and grave concern.

Risk mitigation

The Company has built excellent relationship over the years with the local farming community. It has of course no control over agro-climatic risks and regulatory interventions.

Risk specific to the Company

It is also surrounded by other sugar mills that limits scope for major cane area expansion. Of late, its command area for cane has become increasingly susceptible to water stress.

Risk Management

The Board being responsible for framing, implementing and monitoring the risk management plan for the company has laid down the framework for risk assessment and mitigation procedures. It has set out detailed framework to deal with key areas of risks encompassing raw material risk, product price risk, regulatory risk, finance risk and risk specific to the company. It has put in place adequate system to keep its key operating team aware and beware of the likely risk factors. Internal control systems and internal audit checks help the company continuously monitor emerging risks and take timely corrective action.

Prudential Sugar Corporation Limited

Internal Control System and their adequacy

The company has proper and effective internal control systems commensurate with its nature of business and size of operations to ensure that all controls and procedures function satisfactorily at all times and all policies are duly complied with as required. These are considered adequate to reasonably safeguard its assets against loss or misappropriation through unauthorized or unintended use.

There is adequate and effective internal audit system that employs periodic checks on ongoing process. The Audit Committee of the Board of Directors regularly reviews the effectiveness of internal control system in order to ensure due and proper implementation and due compliance with applicable laws, accounting standards and regulatory guidelines.

Human Resources

The Company employs 150 seasonal and 201 non-seasonal employees. We have sugar wage board applicable for our workers. Industry relations remained cordial throughout the year.

Discussion on Financial Performance with respect to Operational Performance

Operational Performance

	Year ended
	2015-16	2014-15
Number of days	117	117
Average crushing rate (TCD)	1998	2588
Cane crushed (T)	296278	302799
Recovery (%)	7.53	9.16
Sugar produced (T)	222680	277380

Financial Performance

Turnover indeed increased during the year and the increase is moderate compared to the peak achieved in 2010-11. The only saving grace in the year was the buoyancy in the price of Molasses. Operating margins were negative in line with the industry.

In the end, the company has suffered a Net Loss after tax of Rs.1699.10 Lakhs as against the net Loss of Rs.70.17 Lakhs in the previous year. Its operations were decimated by drought and marred by adverse market conditions thereby rendering its overall financial performance unsatisfactory.

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-Section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 (“the Act”)

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of Prudential Sugar Corporation Limited (“the Company”) as of March 31, 2016 in conjunction with our audit of the Standalone Financial Statements of the Company for the year ended on the date.

Management’s Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's Management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to Company’s policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the company's internal financial control over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the “Guidance Note”) and the Standard on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143 (10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of Internal Financial Controls, both applicable to an audit of Internal Financial Controls and, both issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects. Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the Auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, weather due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

A Company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that

- i. pertain to the maintenance of the records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company;
- ii. provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of the management and Directors of the company; and
- iii. provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Control Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatement due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies and procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial control system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2016, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Control Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.
